THE VISIBILITY GAP AUDIT

Why Your Business Isn't Reaching the Right People, And What to Fix First

Most businesses are losing customers they never even knew they had.

Not because the product is bad. Not because the price is wrong. But because somewhere between their brand, their marketing, and their strategy, there's a gap. A visibility gap. And your competitors are quietly walking through it every day.

This audit is designed to show you exactly where that gap lives in your business, across three areas that work together to determine whether the right people find you, trust you, and choose you.

How to use this: Answer each question honestly, YES if it's consistently true, NO if it's not or you're unsure. Tally your score at the end of each section.

SECTION 1: BRANDING Is your brand saying the right thing?

Your brand is not just a logo. It's the feeling people get when they encounter your business, and whether that feeling makes them lean in or walk away.

	QUESTION	YOUR ANSWER
1	Can you describe your ideal customer in one clear sentence: their situation, frustration, and what they actually want?	☐ YES ☐ NO
2	Does your brand name, tagline, or headline immediately communicate what you do and who it's for?	☐ YES ☐ NO
3	Does your visual identity (colours, fonts, imagery) match the emotions you want your audience to feel?	☐ YES ☐ NO
4	Is your brand voice consistent across your website, social media, and any printed materials?	☐ YES ☐ NO
5	If a stranger visited your website for 5 seconds, could they tell what you do and why it matters to them?	☐ YES ☐ NO

SECTION 1 SCORE: _____ / 5

SECTION 2: MARKETING Are you showing up in the right places?

Good marketing isn't about being everywhere. It's about being exactly where your ideal customer is already looking, with a message that makes them stop.

	QUESTION	YOUR ANSWER
1	Do you know which 1–2 platforms or channels your ideal customers actually spend their time on?	☐ YES ☐ NO
2	Is your content or messaging focused on solving your customers' problems, rather than just promoting your product or service?	☐ YES ☐ NO
3	Do you have a clear way to capture leads or start a conversation with people who show interest (e.g. email list, DMs, enquiry form)?	☐ YES ☐ NO
4	Are you posting or running campaigns consistently enough that your audience doesn't forget you exist?	☐ YES ☐ NO
5	Can you tell which marketing activities are actually bringing you customers, and which are not?	☐ YES ☐ NO

SECTION 2 SCORE: _____ / 5

SECTION 3: STRATEGY Is your approach built around the right audience?

Tactics without strategy are just noise. A strong strategy means every decision - pricing, positioning, partnerships is pointing in the same direction.

	QUESTION	YOUR ANSWER
1	Do you have a defined niche or target audience, a specific group of people you are the best choice for?	☐ YES ☐ NO
2	Do you have a clear reason why a customer should choose you over a competitor offering something similar?	☐ YES ☐ NO
3	Is your pricing strategy intentional, designed to attract your ideal customer and reflect the value you provide?	☐ YES ☐ NO
4	Do you have a planned path for turning a first-time customer or follower into a repeat buyer or referrer?	☐ YES ☐ NO
5	Are your current business goals connected to a specific, written plan, not just a general direction?	☐ YES ☐ NO

SECTION 3 SCORE: _____ / 5

YOUR RESULTS

Add up your YES answers from all three sections. Your total score out of 15 tells you where you stand.

TOTAL SCORE: _____ / 15

correct

0 - 5: The Gap Is Wide Open

Your competitors are likely winning customers that should be yours. The good news? This is the easiest stage to see dramatic results, because almost every change you make will have an immediate impact. This is exactly where an outside perspective and a clear plan can make the biggest difference.

6 - 10
correct

6 - 10: You're Halfway There

You've got some of the right pieces in place, but they're not all working together. The gap isn't wide, it's targeted. One or two areas are likely holding back the results in all the others. Identifying and fixing those levers is the fastest path to meaningful growth.

11 - 15
correct

11 - 15: You're on the Right Track

Your fundamentals are solid. You're showing up, saying the right things, and pointing in the right direction. Now it's about sharpening your edge, fine-tuning your positioning, doubling down on what works, and removing anything that's creating friction between you and your ideal customer.

WHAT'S YOUR NEXT MOVE?

Now that you know where your gap is, the question is: what are you going to do about it?

Whether you scored 3 or 13, there's a specific path from where you are to owning your niche. I help businesses bridge exactly this gap, across branding, marketing, and strategy, so that the right people find, trust, and choose them consistently.

Let's talk about your score and what it means for your business.
